In the summary assessment of individual performance criteria awards Parapente magazine "hearts". Starting with one heart is the grading scale of 3 hearts for "good", 4 hearts "excellent" up to 5 hearts for "perfect". In the category "performance", the Mentor 2 received never before awarded 6 hearts.

Chef test pilot Philippe Lami can't find words to express his enthusiasm, and we also hardly find words to translate them. The following is an excerpt of his test report:

This wing you have to love, but do not deceive the customers. Not everyone can fly it, but for the average pilot, the Mentor 2 is quite manageable. For me, this wing is beyond the scope. It brings pleasure, security and performance to the point. Nova obviously brings his most exceptional wing, with stunning flight characteristics and handling. The Mentor 2 is the discovery of the year for me. "

More excerpt from the review:

"In the last weeks since I fly the Mentor 2 in our team, this wing has made the rounds, the interest was amazing. I also give this wing to my son (...) His broad smile revealed a few not very simple, nice little XC flights, what a pleasure with this great wing with plenty power reserves and excellent flight characteristics. I think I get a new name for my Christmas list of wishes. "
